

Seasonal Cabinet Maintenance

Kitchens are one of the most used areas of the home, so it's important to invest the time to keep your cabinets clean and adjusted. This easy cabinet maintenance will keep your cabinets looking good, enhance the functionality and prolong the life of your cupboards. Here are some recommendations on season maintenance to ensure your kitchen is a happy kitchen!

DAILY MAINTENANCE:

Liquid spills should be cleaned up as they occur. Areas around your sink and dishwasher may need to be cleaned more often. Never hang a wet dish cloth or dish towel over your wood cabinet door. Eventually the moisture can cause permanent damage to your door.

Everyday clean-up of cabinets can be done with a clean, damp cloth and soft drying towel. You can also add a small amount of mild dish soap to your water to help remove oils and grease from your cabinetry.

MONTHLY MAINTENANCE

Wipe down cabinetry (Simply wipe with a clean, damp cloth and then wipe dry immediately with a soft cloth)

SPRING AND FALL MAINTENANCE

It is recommended that clients perform adjustments on their cabinet door and drawer fronts twice per year. This ensures that things are lined up and performing correctly. These adjustments are best performed in the late Spring and late Fall due to housing shifts and humidity changes.
